

David Revelin

Deputy Director for International Affairs, Autorité de Contrôle Prudentiel et de Résolution (ACPR)

David Revelin is deputy director for international affairs at ACPR since September 2025. Previously, he has held several positions at ACPR, first as insurance supervisor, and then as deputy head of the insurance international policy division until 2013; in this position, he also chaired the EIOPA subgroup on reporting. From 2013 to 2018, David was head of the regulatory affairs unit (covering both banking and insurance) and then head of the insurance supervision unit in charge of the supervision of subsidiaries of European and foreign groups.

From 2019 to 2022, David was based in Singapore where he set up the Asia-Pacific office of Banque de France. He was then seconded until 2025 as financial attaché at the Permanent Representation of France to the European Union, where he worked on banking, insurance and digital files.

David graduated in economics from Ecole Normale Supérieure – Paris (ENS) and Ecole Nationale de la Statistique et de l'Administration Economique (ENSAE), and in business law from Sciences Po - Paris.
