

Patrick Montagner
First deputy secretary general

Born in 1965, I have joined the French central bank in 1988 where I have held various positions, mainly in the financial supervision area.

- 1988-1992 : financial analyst
- 1992-1996 : Internal auditor
- From 1996 to 2006, various positions within the on-site banking department
- appointed in September 2008 as director for the department in charge of large French international banks and of foreign banks in France. During this period, I was member of the Senior Supervisors Group and of the Financial Stability Board's (FSB) Supervisory Intensity and Effectiveness Working Group.
- nominated in April 2012 as director of a department in charge of Insurance supervision (member of IAIS supervisory forum)
- December 2013 to December 2017 : chair of FSB iCBCM (insurance cross border crisis management).
- March 2014, deputy secretary general of the ACPR (Legal department, Consumer protection department, HR and resources department, Quality insurance division))
- November 2018 first deputy secretary general (Insurance supervision departments, Authorisations department, Legal department, Consumer protection department).
