

Marc Horovitz

Marc Horovitz holds Master's degrees in Science and Executive Engineering from Mines Paris – PSL, in Business Administration from HEC Paris, and in Public Administration from Université Paris I – Panthéon Sorbonne.

He currently serves as Deputy Head of the Insurance and Pensions Unit at the Directorate-General for Financial Stability, Financial Services and Capital Markets Union (DG FISMA) of the European Commission, a position he has held since June 2025. He previously worked as a Policy Officer in the same unit.

Marc joined the European Commission in 2018, initially as a Seconded National Expert, and became an EU Official in 2023. Before that, he worked at the French Prudential and Resolution Authority (Autorité de Contrôle Prudentiel et de Résolution – ACPR) from 2014, first as a Policy Expert in the International Affairs Directorate, and later leading the team supervising the French subgroup of a European Internationally Active Insurance Group.

At DG FISMA, Marc has represented the European Commission on EIOPA's Policy Steering Committee and has taken part in several EIOPA project groups, as well as in working structures of the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS).
