

Coronavirus, consumers and insurance

Podcast episode 2: Coronavirus, consumers and insurance

NEWS

DATE:

21 Apr 2021

The coronavirus pandemic has not only changed the experience that consumers have with their insurance provider, but also their insurance needs. In this episode of the EIOPA Podcast, Irina Popa and Marco Traversa discuss how COVID-19 has impacted policyholders and what this means for insurers, supervisors and EIOPA's work.

The views expressed are those of the speakers and not necessarily those of the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority.

Published on 21 April 2021 and recorded on 13 April 2021.

