

Retail risk indicators: methodology update

DOCUMENT
DATE:
09 Dec 2021

Based on data on market activities in the different Member States, the retail risk indicators represent a set of ratios and measures that highlight trends and pinpoint possible risks to consumers. The indicators aim to provide a pre-emptive assessment on how individual characteristics and distribution processes of different insurance products can affect consumers.

LAST UPDATED ON:
21 Jan 2022