

EIOPA Occupational Pension Stakeholder Group

Pauline Azzopardi has enjoyed a career of over 30 years, working with some of the world's largest international banking and insurance institutions, including Munich Re, HSBC, Mapfre (previously Middle Sea Insurance).

She is currently President of the Association for Consumer Rights Malta (ACR) as well as an AGE Platform Europe task force member for the Malta Pensioners Association for Financial Services. In previous roles she represented Malta on the European Consumer Consultative Group (ECCG), acted as Vice President on the National Council of women, and was President of HSBC Malta's Banking on Women forum. From 2013 to 2015 was Civil Society representative on matters of Finance, Economy and General Matters on the Malta-EU Steering and Action Committee (MEUSAC).

Pauline is a fellow of the Chartered Insurance Institute and holds a bachelor's in science from the University of Malta. She is also a current visiting lecturer at the University of Malta, covering portfolio management, financial planning, bancassurance, pensions and life assurance.